Welcome to the Sheffield Local Authority Early Years Professional Development training brochure for 2024-25.

As the new academic year begins we launch ourselves into another exciting year with a fantastic choice of guest trainers and professional development opportunities for the Early Years sector to access.

We are pleased to announce the return of the Sheffield Early Years Conference which will this year be led by Greg Bottrill, come along for the day and be one of the 'Play People' who immerse in the joy of time together with children, exploring a treasure trove of toolkits to add confidence, direction and possibilities to your practice.

Dr Alistair Bryce-Clegg will also be joining us delivering 'Transforming Practice; Harnessing the Power of Play, Science and Research'. This training will motivate, inspire and empower attendees to create enriching learning environments that maximise outcomes for all children in our city.

There is the opportunity to explore the connection between behaviour and emotions in a meaningful way with Sarah Emmerson and a chance to re-imagine how you support physical development and re-think the importance of movement play for learning and wellbeing across the whole curriculum with Jabadao.

We also have training with the 0-5 SEND team, Attention Autism, Celebrating Neurodiversity and our 'Planning for Potential' project with Kirstine Beeley, as well as many other exciting professional development opportunities for you to access.

This year, the majority of our training sessions and free network events will be delivered in person to encourage conversation and sharing good practice-as well as an opportunity for you to network with early years colleagues across the sector.

We look forward to working with you throughout the upcoming year.

Vicky Carr, Early Years Quality, Access and Moderation Manager.

If you wish to subscribe to the Early Years Professional Development Training

Package, please email :

EarlyYearsBusinessSupport@sheffield.gov.uk

Settings who subscribe to the package can book on as many courses as they wish up to 7 tokens for as many staff members to attend without additional charge, e.g. a course costing one token subscription you can send more than one member of staff (capacity dependent of the training course and venue) and only be charged one token.

However, non-attendance of additional people will incur a £50.00 charge.

If you wish to purchase additional training tokens you will be charged accordingly.

Enquiries about booking procedures should be made by contacting the Early Years Business Support Team -

EarlyYearsBusinessSupport@sheffield.gov.uk

Please note that course bookings will NOT be accepted over the phone. A booking form is provided with this booklet for you to complete and return to

EarlyYearsBusinessSupport@sheffield.gov.uk

Please complete the booking form fully and accurately in order to be booked onto training or to attend FREE network events or training opportunities (those who are not subscribed to the package but wish to attend networks, briefings or FREE training opportunities are also required to complete a booking form).

Restrictions on numbers of people who can attend each training session is noted on the top of each training overview page.

Training sessions, network meetings and briefings will not be delivered if there are less than 5 attendees booked on and may not be guaranteed to be delivered again.

Booking is essential for all courses and briefings. All cancellations must be made at least 2 weeks in advance (unless in exceptional circumstances) and must be made via email.

Registers will close 2 weeks prior to the training delivery date to ensure all participants have relevant joining details and pre course materials or to share cancellation details due to low attendance.

Enquiries or advice about the course content can be made by contacting

EarlyYearsBusinessSupport@sheffield.gov.uk

or directly to vicky.carr@sheffield.gov.uk

This year, once again, we have made the difficult decision that non-attendance at pre-booked events will be subject to a charge.

This is due to training sessions being at capacity resulting in waiting lists being put in place and not all participants attending for their booked places. Payment of external facilitators and venue hire where necessary are also taken into account.

If you are subscribed to the package, the missed session will be used within your subscription allocation.

If the course has a cost attached and you are not subscribed you will be charged the cost of the course you did not attend or send apologies for.

A number of our courses are provided free of charge but places are in demand, therefore, if you fail to attend this training once your place has been confirmed a charge of £50.00 will be payable to Sheffield City Council and an invoice issued.

Exceptions to the charge will be made for notified sickness or reasonable apologies sent to Early Years Business Support prior to the start of the training.

Meet our trainers.

Please take a moment to read information about the trainers we are lucky enough to work with.

There is a wealth of knowledge working with our Sheffield Early Years sector this year.

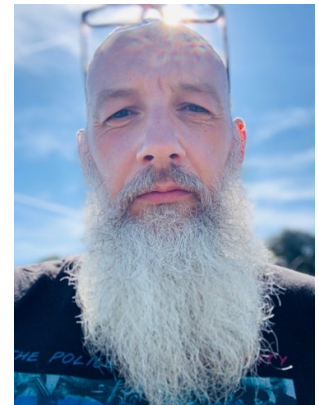

Greg Bottrill

Greg is the author of the bestselling 'Can I Go And Play Now?', 'School of the Magic of Children' and 'Love Letters To Play'.

A passionate advocate of childhood and education done with children not to them, he is also the creator of Drawing Club,

The Message Centre, Play Projects and Adventure Island.

His work and thinking is deeply embedded in joy, adventure, marvel and play, four things that he believes are equally as important for adults.

Alistair Bryce-Clegg

Alistair is an award-winning Early Years author, blogger, product designer and advocate of PLAY.

His work has been published in a number of books and magazines and he has worked as an Early Years advisor for various film and television projects.

Alongside support and training for a range of settings, schools and parents, he also works Internationally and with Local Authorities across the UK.

His most recent project is the co-creation of a child development app for parents called My First Five Years (mffy.com).

Alistair has an MA in Education and a Doctorate in Education.

He also finds time to be a husband to Fee and father of 3 boys (now young men!).

Kirstine Beeley

Kirstine is an ex teacher with experience in primary, early years and special education settings. A former senior lecturer at Oxford Brookes University, Kirstine has been an early years consultant since 2006 and works with settings and local authorities across the UK. She is a prolific author with titles through both Bloomsbury and Playing to Learn (her own brand). She prides herself on delivering practical hands-on and feet-in training in early years and has a particular passion for creating inspiring spaces on a limited budget. She feels that all early years settings can plan for the potential of high quality learning at the same time as helping to save the planet by sourcing upcycled, recycled and preloved items wherever possible.

Marianna Limnaiou

Marianna Limnaiou is an autism specialist teacher and consultant. As an Attention Autism Advanced Practitioner she has run many workshops and collaborated with parents, teaching staff, speech and language therapists and outside agencies to develop fun, creative and practical learning strategies to support pupils. She has worked as a class teacher both in mainstream and in special schools supporting neurodivergent students as well as in leadership positions in schools in London and Sheffield. She has an Honours degree in Psychology & Pedagogics and an MSc in Child and Adolescent Mental Health.

Elaine Taylor-Brown

Elaine Taylor-Brown is currently based in Southend where her latest role focuses on supporting EYFS settings. Her particular passions as an NNEB trained nursery nurse are the power of play, the crucial role of observation and the importance of the workforce understanding child development. She is the author of popular early maths books as well as many articles. She has a particular passion for early maths and the crucial role of learning through play.

Ann Dawson

Ann has taught in Early Years in EAL schools for over 20 years, leading Foundation Stage as part of the SLT. She has led training for DECSY, ESCAL, the EAL Team, Sheffield schools and the local authority . Ann has delivered Early Years training for Sheffield Hallam University and has also been part of the Early Years Local Authority Moderation Team.

Throughout 2022 and 2023, Ann developed a brand new project called 'Step into English'. This supports children who are at an early stage of their development and have English as a second language. It also has a marked impact with children with SEND.

Sarah Emerson

Sarah is a consultant and trainer specialising in children's emotional well-being and 'behaviour'. She advocates for responsive, connected parenting and teaching to enable children to develop well-being, resilience, and self-worth. Providing inclusive and neuro-affirming approaches is at the heart of her work. She reframes 'behaviour' into conversations around dysregulation, looking at how we can support the development of self-regulation and self-control in an appropriate way, with realistic expectations for young children. Sarah encourages professionals and parents to explore how we can meet children's needs effectively, communicate with them sensitively, and teach them about their emotions and strategies for regulation from a young age. Sarah has been in the early years sector for over 20 years in a variety of teaching, leadership and training roles. In addition to being a qualified early years teacher and trainer of adults, she holds an MA in Early Childhood Studies and has undertaken postgraduate training in Child, Adolescent and Family Mental Well-being.

Kirsty Davison

Kirsty has over 20 years of experience in working in the early years sector. With specialist expertise in supporting children with speech, language and communication needs. She has worked for both Sheffield Speech and Language Therapy Service and Sheffield City Council supporting early years settings to meet the needs of all children, but particularly those with Special Education Needs and Disabilities. She has used Makaton extensively throughout her career, particularly during her role as an Advanced Speech and language Therapy Assistant; and during the time she was part of the team at the Sheffield Early Years Language Centre (Ucan) working with children with Development language Disorder. She is a fully qualified and licensed Makaton Tutor, hoping to support as many early years practitioners as possible to enhance their knowledge and skills in using Makaton as part of their everyday practice.

Jabadao

Jabadao is a research, training and development agency working with early years and special needs settings across the UK. We specialise in using a developmental movement approach to build understanding of what children's bodies need, both to develop well and build high levels of wellbeing. We want children to grow up feeling great in their own skin.

To develop fantastic motor skills, but also to carry the highest levels of body confidence and engagement into their adult lives.

Catherine Wilks is the tutor this course - she has run Jabadao training courses in both early years and special needs settings for twenty years.

EAL / New Arrivals Team

Shabnam Shah is an EMA / EAL Consultant, also working within the Sheffield EAL / New Arrivals Team. With over 20 years' experience working and teaching in schools, Shabnam specialises in training, leadership support, school reviews and the development of academic language and vocabulary. Shabnam is also a qualified 'Word Aware' Trainer.

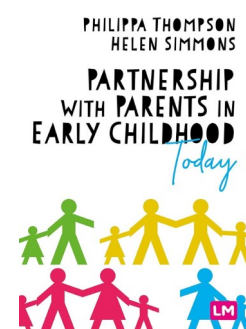

The Sheffield EAL / New Arrivals Team offers high quality professional development for whole school, senior leaders, teachers, teaching assistants, business managers and other educational professionals. This is delivered through nationally recognised programmes, courses, packages and bespoke CPD for schools and settings. The Team works across all phases both locally and nationally.

Wendy Kettleborough

Wendy Kettleborough has extensive experience of Early Years across the Education, Social and PVI sectors. She has worked as an Early Years Consultant for Pen Green and other Early Years settings across the UK. An avid advocate for children and life-long learning, her longitudinal study of "Children and Schemas" has resulted in the publication of five books. These are designed for parents and practitioners to share with their children. She also wrote a chapter in the academic handbook "Partnership with children in Early Childhood- today" Edited by Philippa Thompson and Helen Simmons. Her holistic perspective is influenced by her substantial experience in Australia and Denmark. Currently collaborating with Save the Children and York University her drive to increase the status of Early Years professionals is her work around "Conceptual Engineering."

Debbie Garvey

Debbie's career spans more than three decades, championing children, families, and practitioners across the entire early childhood sector. From nursery provision, through to training at FE and HE levels, Debbie's child-centered approach has been at the heart of her roles locally, regionally, and nationally. Debbie's experience includes roles such as, practitioner, leader, author, trainer, consultant, lecturer, researcher and facilitator, developing, delivering and evaluating a range of projects. Debbie has empowered the use and development of reflective practice, in order to support quality experiences for children, families and staff, through supportive interventions such as, training, team building, conferences, forums, parent/family support, new provision and CQI (Continuous Quality Improvement) programs.

Debbie is an active author, trainer, lecturer, and speaker on the subject of early years, early childhood and leadership. Debbie has particular interests in neuroscience, PSED, leadership, coaching/mentoring and reflective practice, and the roles these play in developing quality experiences for children, families and staff.

In January 2007, Debbie set up Stonegate Training. Our aim is to advocate quality experiences and provision for children, young people, and families, alongside quality CPD experiences for the dedicated practitioners who work with them. Amongst other things, Debbie is a level 6 qualified mentor, and is currently undertaking an MA with a view to continuing into a doctorate.

Debbie has written several books in this area and is an avid Twitter (X) fan, and you can follow Debbie @stoneg8training.

Community Early Years Practitioners

The Community Early Years Practitioners (CEYP's) offer support and advice to professionals and families ensuring early identification of need, supporting health and wellbeing and training opportunities. The CEYP offer is available in a range of settings within communities such as nurseries, childminders, family hubs and schools. Training/workshops are delivered via a hybrid model virtually over zoom and face to face.

Your Community Early Years Practitioners are Gavin Sweet, Karen Hobson, Jenny Sinclair, Lynsey Shaw, Nicola Waller and Vanessa Hair.

0-5 SEND Team

The 0-5 SEND Support Service offers support for children with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND), their parents/carers, Early Years settings and schools for children aged 0-5 years.

Our team consists of specialised SEND Early Years Inclusion Teachers, experienced Early Years Inclusion Assistants, a Senior Portage Visitor and Portage Home Visitors. We deliver support citywide and work closely with families, settings, schools and professionals in Education, Health and Care services to help meet the needs of children with complex needs.

Early Years Quality Improvement Team

We are a team of highly qualified professionals. We have a broad range of experiences, skills and interests within the sector.

The Early Years Quality Improvement Team aim to support, challenge and inspire new and existing early years professionals across the sector to develop their high-quality provision.

Our team work city wide, with allocated childcare providers and childminders. We offer tailored support which may include annual reviews, one to one consultation, professional development opportunities (including networking and briefings).

Ultimately, we all share the same early years vision and agenda to improve outcomes for the children in Sheffield.

Your Early Years Quality Improvement Team are:

Michelle Richford, Debbie Hindley, Karen Rees, Paula Burgin, Lisa Bramhall, Michelle Fox and Heather Spray.

Early Years Quality & Access Team

Our Early Years Quality and Access Team is comprised of passionate, dedicated and knowledgeable early years professionals. They work collaboratively with schools and private providers to support improvement, developing high-quality early years provision that promotes high standards of attainment in all areas of learning in the Foundation Stage.

Through combined expertise they plan and deliver comprehensive programmes of training, providing early years settings with access to training that supports the effective implementation of the Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS) Statutory Framework and its processes. They can provide bespoke consultancy, working alongside early years teachers and leaders to audit, develop, implement and evaluate practice including support with producing action plans for improvement in the Foundation Stage.

Working across the authority they conduct termly briefings and network events, disseminating key messages from the sector. Alongside this, the team act as facilitators for moderation events, supporting schools to work together through networking, to ensure consistent and accurate assessment standards in relation to the EYFSP.

Your Early Years Quality and Access Team are Jayne Atkinson and Lushane Davies-Maw.

Early Years Conference with Greg Bottrill

Behaviour and Big Feelings

Number of places:30

Course suitable for:

All early years practitioners, childminders, managers, SENCos, teachers, teaching assistants, year 1 teachers and leaders.

Description:

This two day course will empower you to respond to children's 'behaviour and big feelings' with confidence. We will explore the connection between behaviour and emotions in a meaningful way, considering:

- Causes and triggers that contribute to a child's dysregulation
- The impact of attachment, SEND and trauma on 'behaviour'
- Communication and teaching styles based in connection and co-regulation
- Effective responses to a variety of dysregulated behaviours including hitting, throwing and biting
- How to use your environment to de-escalate situations
- Activities and resources to help children learn about feelings and how to regulate them
- How to ensure an approach to behaviour and big feelings that is supportive and inclusive of neurodivergent children
- What 'self-control' really means and how to help children develop it

There will be sharing of information, lots of practical tips, and time for reflection and questions. Participants are welcome to bring any questions they may have relating to current 'real-life' challenges.

Collaborative Moderation Network

Number of places: 30

Course suitable for:

Reception teachers, Year 1 colleagues as well as those in a subject leader post to join our network and conversations.

Description:

Come and join our Collaborative Moderation Network!

This network aims to foster professional dialogue and collaboration among our schools/settings. It will provide practitioners with the skills to make accurate and reliable teacher judgements and to speak with confidence about what their children know, understand and can do. The network will create a supportive space to share experiences and to showcase best practice. By engaging in peer-to-peer moderation, practitioners can share a range of perspectives, enhance their understanding of effective assessment procedures, and build a shared comprehension of the Early Learning Goals (ELGs) in line with the Early Years Profile Handbook requirements.

This collaborative process will not only support the quality assurance of the EYFSP judgements by the end of the school year but will also provide valuable opportunities for ongoing professional development, as schools work together to refine their assessment skills and share best practices.

Each term will have its own focus:

April Network Focus: The Prime Areas

May Network Focus: Maths and Literacy

June Network Focus: Understanding the World and Expressive Arts and Design

We would warmly welcome our Year 1 colleagues as well as those in a subject leader post to join our network and conversations.

Conceptual Engineering

Number of places: 30

Course suitable for:

All early years practitioners, childminders, managers, teachers, teaching assistants, year 1 teachers and leaders.

Description:

Do you want to extend, excite, and enhance practice based professionalism for you and your setting through:

The consolidation and co-construction of a love of learning

The creation and crafting of multiple opportunities for deep level learning

Becoming an advocate for the advancement of autonomy and authentic interactions.

Current research into neuroscience consistently highlights how important quality interactions are for children. But the rhetoric and reality often focus on progress rather than perspective and purpose. Without purpose we know learning doesn't resonate. Ensure the learning in your setting resonate with the children and practitioners. "Operacy" is as important as Literacy and Numeracy, this time for reflection will focus on the pillars of success using scaffolding, self-efficacy and self-regulations the pillars of development. Adopting the strategies provided will enhance all practice and professionalism.

The three days will focus on practice and knowledge. They will positively impact the practitioners at settings as well as parents and children. Through the utilisation of perception, deep level learning, schemas, language (Word Wealth) and neuroscience you will raise the morale of yourself your staff and inspire awe and wonder throughout your setting.

Creating an Enabling Environment

Number of places:30

Course suitable for:

All early years practitioners, childminders, managers, teachers, teaching assistants, year 1 teachers and leaders.

Description:

Join our "Creating an Enabling Environment" training for early years practitioners and explore how you might design spaces that stimulate curiosity and foster development. This 1 day workshop offers practical tips on arranging classrooms, incorporating sensory-rich materials, and creating inclusive settings that cater to diverse learning styles. Together we will consider some of the many ways to transform your learning environment into a dynamic, engaging space where children thrive, explore, and grow. Enhance your teaching practice, reflective skills and make a profound impact on young learners with thoughtfully designed spaces.

Should you wish to pair this training with the 'Role of the Adult', practitioners will gain a comprehensive insight into how these two aspects of the four overarching principles have an impact upon learning and development in the early years.

EYFS Profile Training

Number of places: 15 / 30

Course suitable for:

Early years teachers or practitioners new to completing the EYFS Profile. This training will also be suitable for those wishing to refresh their knowledge of the EYFS profile and its completion.

Description:

The 'New to EYFS Profile' training equips teachers and practitioners with the knowledge and skills to effectively assess and support children's development in their early years at the end of the Early Years Foundation Stage. This comprehensive training covers the principles and framework of the Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS) Profile, guiding participants through discussion around the processes of observation, record keeping, and evaluation of children's progress across all areas of learning and development.

Participants will investigate the processes involved when completing the profile for children with SEND and for those with English as an additional language. In addition we will explore the rules for exceptions and exemptions.

Practitioners will consider the necessity to communicate effectively with parents/carers about their child's achievement & attainment. In addition, participants will reflect about what the children know, understand and can do and how to articulate this with Year 1 colleagues.

This training ensures that practitioners are well-prepared to complete the Early Years Foundation Stage Profile at the end of the Reception year.

JABADAO; Movement Play creating powerful experiences that fuel learning, development and wellbeing

Number of places: 20

Course suitable for:

EYFS Lead practitioners who can facilitate change within settings.

Description:

This blended training programme offers you the opportunity to re-imagine how you support physical development - and re-think the importance of movement play for learning and wellbeing across the whole curriculum.

Step 1

Create an indoor Movement Play Area to support children's spontaneous, free flow Movement Play and the learning it promotes (sensory, physical, personal, social and emotional).

Step 2

Grow your developmental movement knowledge, deepen your understanding of physical development - and refresh your pedagogy.

Step 3

Support more body learning - in the Movement Play Area and the wider learning environment.

Programme structure

The project is designed for cohorts of 20 lead practitioners, and includes a Movement Play Area kit to kickstart new practice and a short Taster Course to share with their teams.

- ◇ One day face to face workshop (1): introducing a Movement Play Area, how to set it up and the practice that supports learning there
- ◇ Resource kit sent to each setting so you can create an Area and introduce it to your children
- ◇ Access to the first 2 online courses (each takes about 2 hours to complete at your own pace, i) further guidance for the Movement Play Area area and ii) The Feeling of Me - the sensory development aspect of the approach
- ◇ One day face to face workshop (2) - discuss learning so far, speak about challenges and identify further support. Start to explore a developmental movement approach to motor development
- ◇ Access to the 3rd and 4th online courses - iii) Floor Play Foundations and iv) Halfway and Upright Play
- ◇ One day face to face day (3) where the focus is on the way forward, how to implement the approach across your setting

Leadership Lounge

Number of places:15/30

Course suitable for:

All early years practitioners, childminders, managers, teachers, teaching assistants, year 1 teachers and leaders.

Description:

This training will establish a community of support for new and established leaders that is accessible, informal, practical and reflective.

The group will share a range of tools and proformas that have been beneficial in enhancing the practice of practitioners.

There will be time and space to provide reflection for policies, procedure and practice.

We will discuss how to relieve the stress and demands of being “in charge” and create a “WhatsApp” group for peer support and advice for delegates to opt into.

You will have the opportunity to utilise two proformas of your choice and feed back to the group.

After working in early years for over 44 years and within my current role as an as an “Expert” in Rotherham, Doncaster and Barnsley for the past 2 years, I have noticed a pattern in the concerns of leaders in Early Years settings. Leadership and management are often thrust upon us and the skills and attitudes needed often vary from the theoretical approaches advocated in manuals. The multi-agency working and liaison can feel disempowering and this course will attempt to ensure we regain our voice and feel valued to a greater degree.

Making maths marvellous in the early years- nurturing young mathematical minds!

Number of places:25

Course suitable for:

All early years practitioners, childminders, managers, teachers, teaching assistants and leaders.

Description:

So many of us feel we are not good at maths, some of us may joke that we are “rubbish at maths”. But how do these negative ideas and attitudes impact on not only how we teach maths, but the children who may sense this negativity?

- How can we keep play at the heart of practice?
- How can we lead real change in practice across our settings?
- How can we improve our mathematical environments and interactions?
- How can we make sure that our children feel confident about maths and have a love and fascination with all things mathematical?

This 3 day project aims to:

- Support you to ensure that you give your children the very best mathematical start in their early years
- Build your confidence to enable to provide the richest maths experiences for the children in your setting with a focus on environments and interactions
- Develop your mathematical subject knowledge so that you understand exactly what your children need to understand mathematically and how to help them develop this through your teaching
- Provide practical, low cost no cost play based ideas to take back into your setting which will impact on your children
- Provide a community to network, connect and share ideas and experiences with
- Enable you to build a personalised action plan to take back to your setting finding ways to ensure that each and every child in your care gets the very, very best mathematical start!

Maths all around us?

Number of places: 12/20

Course suitable for:

All early years practitioners, childminders, managers, teachers, teaching assistants and leaders.

Description:

Discover the magic of maths in everyday life with our "Maths All Around Us" training for early years educators. These 3 part workshops explore creative ways to integrate mathematical concepts into daily activities, making learning engaging and accessible for young children. Participants will gain practical techniques to teach counting, pattern and spatial reasoning (including shape, space and measure) through play and routine experiences. There will be a particular focus on the environment and how this can be used as the 'third teacher', supporting children's mathematical concepts and helping them to make links in their learning within the classroom/room setting.

Join us to transform your teaching approach and help children see the world through a mathematical lens, fostering a lifelong love of all things maths.

Description:

The 'New to Early Years Foundation Stage Lead' training is designed to support educators stepping into leadership roles within early years settings. This comprehensive programme covers essential leadership skills such as development of team management strategies and support, fostering a positive work environment and getting the most from your team. Participants will learn how to effectively implement the Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS) framework, ensuring high-quality teaching and learning through a variety of mentoring and coaching techniques. The training also emphasises the importance of building strong relationships with children, staff, and families, and equips new leaders with strategies to inspire and support their teams. In addition, delegates will have the opportunity to examine, through focussed investigative questions, how to showcase the culture and ethos of their setting through, for example purposeful learning walks. By the end of the training, new EYFS leaders will have had the opportunity to develop their own strategic overview, having a new-found confidence in their ability to lead with vision and purpose, creating a thriving early years setting.

Sessions will focus on;

1. Leadership Vs management; Coaching and mentoring approaches; Developing and embedding culture and ethos and sharing the vision.
2. Developing the team through the implementation of robust, research-based professional development.
3. Purposeful learning walks – How to successfully showcase your setting with others

In addition to the above, we will spend time each session building actions plans with reference to the Early Years Statutory Framework and the Education Inspection Frameworks.

New to EYFS Programme

Number of places: 20

Course suitable for:

Teachers, TAs and Early Years practitioners who are completely new to EYFS, including ECTs, newly qualified practitioners, and experienced teachers/practitioners who are teaching in EYFS for the first time.

Description:

This training is aimed at those who are completely new to EYFS, returning after a break or in need of a refresher.

This training package consists of 3 full days of training. The first day is a chance to explore the EYFS Statutory Framework, gain an insight into the 4 overarching principles and an awareness of the necessary pedagogy, values and practice pertinent to the Early Years Statutory Framework.

The second session focuses on the necessity for providing a stimulating and enabling environment which, in turn, enables children to learn.

Practitioners will also spend time during our final session exploring the role of the adult within the early years, enabling them to foster a nurturing and stimulating environment, thus supporting children to become autonomous, independent learners ready for their next steps.

Planning for Potential Project with Kirstine Beeley

Number of places: 25

Course suitable for:

All early years practitioners, childminders, managers, teachers, teaching assistants, year 1 teachers and leaders.

Description:

Designed to show that you “can” deliver high quality, engaging and exciting learning environments without the big budgets, Kirstine will be working with settings for a whole year to inspire change and support ongoing development in early years.

Each term will focus on a different aspect of early learning and a face to face training session will be packed full of practical and affordable ideas to use in your setting.

Planning for the potential of Maths, Literacy and Science across the year, practitioners will document their journey and end with a celebration of all the amazing achievements from the project over the year.

As well as face to face training once a term, you will receive one of Kirstine’s popular books to take away from each session as well as a chance to buy resources from the mobile “Treasure Shop” .

Kirstine is super excited to bring her early years on a shoestring expertise to Sheffield where she originally trained as a teacher many years ago.

Play and Say

Speech, language and communication training and in setting support.
Delivered face to face within setting by request.

In house training and support suitable for:

All early years practitioners, childminders, managers, teachers, teaching assistants, leaders, and schools with 2 year provision.

Description:

The Play and Say programme was devised by Sheffield Speech and Language Therapists to support speech and language development universally, but with an emphasis on vocabulary building. Programme delivery is aimed predominantly at children under five years of age, and is particularly beneficial in supporting language development of 2 year olds.

The aims of the Play and Say programme and the impact on practice include:

- Promoting language development strategies in everyday practice for all children.
- Supporting language development and the early identification of speech, language and communication needs.
- Supporting the 2 year progress check and integrated review (includes moderation process).
- Helping to build on parent partnership and supporting parents to use strategies in the home with their child (includes sign posting to curious communicators).
- Providing fun and enjoyable activities for children, parents and practitioners.

Over a five week period (one visit per week), our Community Early Years team work “alongside” early years practitioners, providing training, modelling, support and guidance in how to deliver the programme. Practitioner confidence will grow in using this speech, language and communication strategy, as they embed the Play and Say programme into everyday practice.

A full staff team training session is also available as well as a “Curious Communicators” session for parents and carers.

Following the completion of the bespoke Play and Say support, we will visit your setting to evaluate the impact of training on practice, through observation and a supportive “moderation process”.

Dates

This opportunity will be delivered bespoke to your setting. Please register your interest via EarlyYearsBusinessSupport@sheffield.gov.uk and a member of the team will contact you.

Prevent

Number of places:12

Course suitable for:

EYFS Practitioners from PVI settings and childminders.

Description:

All schools, registered early years childcare providers, and registered later years childcare providers are subject to a duty under section 26 of the Counter-Terrorism & Security Act 2015, “in the exercise of their functions, to have due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism”.

This duty is known as the Prevent Duty. This is an introductory workshop to raise awareness of the statutory requirement of the Prevent Duty. The purpose is to develop an understanding of the Prevent Duty and understand who may be vulnerable to radicalisation. We will look at how some people are able to influence and radicalise others to contemplate terrorism, and will support practitioners in recognising when an individual may need help. You will be signposted to the help and support available in our region and who to contact or speak to if you have concerns.

Purposeful learning walks

Number of places: 25

Course suitable for:

EYFS leaders and managers.

Description:

The 'Purposeful Learning Walks' training empowers early years leaders to observe and reflect on the learning environment and teaching practices that enhance the quality of education in the early years.

We will explore together the ways in which your curriculum may be ambitiously constructed and sequenced to prepare children for the next stage in their education. We will explore how it enables children to demonstrate what they know, remember and understand in all areas of their development.

Through the lens of the 'Overarching Principles', participants will consider how they might conduct structured walkthroughs that focus on key aspects of early years provision, such as the needs of the 'Unique Child', the 'Enabling Environment', the 'Positive Relationships' with adults within EYFS and their impact upon 'Learning and Development'.

Leaders will develop skills in gathering insights, identifying areas for improvement, and sharing best practice with others. Delegates will be able to explore their own purpose, direction of travel and desired outcomes with others on the course through a professional, mutually challenging dialogue. By fostering a culture of continuous reflection and collaboration, Purposeful Learning Walks can assist leaders to further develop their confidence in presenting their learning environment, showing how it supports every child's development and well-being.

Role of the Adult

Number of places: 30

Course suitable for:

All early years practitioners, childminders, managers, teachers, teaching assistants and leaders.

Description:

In the early years setting, the role of the adult is crucial in fostering a nurturing and stimulating environment that supports children's development and learning. Warm, sensitive adults provide a safe and secure atmosphere where children feel nurtured, valued and respected. They engage in meaningful interactions, offering encouragement, guidance, and responsive care.

By observing and understanding each child's unique needs and interests, adults can tailor activities that promote curiosity, exploration, and play-based learning. Their role extends to modelling positive behaviour, facilitating social interactions, and creating inclusive spaces that respect diversity. Ultimately, adults play a vital role in laying the foundation for lifelong learning and well-being.

SENCo Briefing and Networking event

Number of places:60

Course suitable for:

Early Years SENCos, practitioners, childminders, managers, teachers and teaching assistants.

Description:

This year we have combined our Early Years SENCo briefing and networking events to allow plenty of time and opportunity for round table discussion, professional dialogue, queries and questions. Local Authority leads will focus on strategic updates and local matters current to Early Years SEND.

We are also welcoming the Educational Psychologists to our meetings to offer group consultations where SENCos bring concerns and the group, facilitated by the Educational Psychologist, supports in a problem solving way. Consultation is a joint problem-solving process that involves working cooperatively to try to achieve the most positive outcomes regarding a problem or issue that perhaps a child or young person is experiencing. Everyone in the consultation process has an active role to play and has equal opportunity to share their views.

Research suggest that the consultation process often enables SENDCo's to feel supported, gain new perspectives, understandings and ideas, develop professional skills and to feel that they were meeting children's needs and working effectively with parents. (Chadwick, 2014)

A consultation can take multiple forms but may involve; a review of an identified concern, acknowledgement of strengths within the present situation, some jointly proposed reasons behind the concern, action plans with agreed, achievable steps and possible outcomes.

Speak up for Sheffield - Introduction course

Number of places: 15/30

Course suitable for:

All professionals who work with young children in early years education, health and social care.

Description:

It is important that everyone working with young children and families has the knowledge to understand how children's speech language and communication develops, and the skills to support their development further.

The "Speak Up for Sheffield" universal level, is a short course, developed as part of the South Yorkshire Futures (SYF) project. One of SYF's key aims is to improve children's outcomes across the whole of the South Yorkshire region. Five levels of expertise were identified through consultation. For many practitioners, accessing the universal level will provide the underpinning knowledge needed to understand and support speech, language and communication development of all young children. The course, developed with Sheffield speech and language therapists, explores brain development, the role of the adult and the general speech and language strategies which can be used in everyday practice.

This course is aimed at people working at the 'Universal Level'; everyone who works with young children.

Please express your interest to the facilitator if you are interested in an opportunity to access the Speak Up for Sheffield Language Champions course in the future.

Statutory Progress Check at age 2 and the Integrated Review

Number of places:12/30

Course suitable for:

All early years practitioners, childminders, managers, teachers, teaching assistants and leaders working with children aged 2-3 years.

Description:

The Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS) requirements state that practitioners must review children's progress between the ages of 2–3 years and provide parents with a short written summary of their development in the prime areas.

Health visiting services are also required to complete a Healthy Child Programme development review at 2 to 2 and a half years, working with parents to look at similar areas of development.

In this session we look at how to carry out an effective Statutory 2 year Progress Check, how assessment supports early identification, and how we ensure we provide the right support at the earliest opportunity.

We explore further, how this can be achieved by encouraging parents, early years providers, local authorities, and health visiting services to work together, combining the EYFS Progress check at age 2 and the 2 year Healthy Child development review and discussing how a child's needs can be best met through an "Integrated Review" process.

Stepping into English

Number of places:30

Course suitable for:

All early years practitioners, childminders, managers, teachers, teaching assistants, Year 1 teachers and leaders.

Description:

This training is delivered over two days and will give you a process and the resource ideas to engage the children, making them keen to write and to practise their skills independently. You will find that the children become focussed and begin to lead their own learning, producing writing of which they are proud. This training begins at the children's stage not their age. It works systematically to bridge gaps in learning for all children and can be adapted for use through school, particularly for EAL learners.

'Step into English' was born out of the visible needs that many children had for a new approach to breaking down the barriers to learning which they were facing. Whilst originally put together for children in early years, we have found that the maxim 'stage, not age' is highly pertinent when it comes to intervening in the learning of children of any age. 'Step into English' has proved to be highly successful in helping years 3, 4, 5 and 6 children move from working in small groups within the intervention back into their mainstream classrooms.

The training covers

- What are the barriers that prevent an EAL child achieving GLD?
- How we might begin to break down these barriers and narrow the gap?
- How we can broaden children's experience in practical ways and build links which bridge cultures?

Story dough with Greg Bottrill

Number of places:30

Course suitable for:

All early years practitioners, childminders, managers, teachers, teaching assistants and leaders.

Description:

Welcome to the massive joy of Story Dough! The wonderfully simple yet powerful way to immerse children in the world of story dreaming. Story Dough is a way of sharing the joy of story, fine motor, chat, mark making and maths with young children. Created with magic in mind, Story Dough is a ten minute 'pop-up' of Time Together immersing in creativity, language and showing children that the pen is their companion to play with.

Story Dough is a joyous moment to 'book snuggle' with small groups of children , to spend quality time with them exploring stories, showing them the joy of manipulating play dough, sprinkling vocabulary, connecting mark making with positive emotion and above all going on an adventure with them into imagination and make believe - all the things that childhood is looking for and the perfect opportunity to bring skills to life

Suitable for children aged 2+years, Story Dough has huge scope for early literacy as well as what Greg calls 'story dreaming', showing children that the world of story is a place to fall in love with...

Participants will need to bring / have a clump of play dough with them.

Supporting Children's PSED and Well-being

Number of places: 12

Course suitable for:

All early years practitioners, childminders, teachers, teaching assistants and leaders.

Description:

The term 'mental health' for babies and young children describes their wellbeing in terms of their social and emotional development.

We have seen a huge impact on the mental health of even our very youngest children in recent times. In this session we, explore how we can gain a better understanding of the impact that early traumas in life can have on a child's personal, social and emotional well-being.

We will reflect upon and challenge our own practice, identifying the changes that we can make within our provision to support children through these difficult times and identify strategies that can support them to build their coping mechanisms and resilience.

We also take a look at our environments and how our youngest children can be made to feel important, cared for and nurtured.

Booking codes and dates:

Supporting Subjects Leads with EYFS Requirements

Number of places: 15/30

Course suitable for:

School staff leading National Curriculum areas wishing to further their understanding of how their subject fits into the EYFS Framework.

Description:

As curriculum subject leaders in school, understanding the pivotal way we shape the educational journey of our youngest learners can be challenging. This full day training will support foundation subject leads in their understanding of the main principles of the EYFS, how this is the very start of the child's curriculum journey within the school and how this early development leads on to further progress as children move into Year 1 and into the Key Stage 1 curriculum.

There will be reference to all Key Stage 1 'subjects' and how these may look and feel in the Foundation Stage.

It may be appropriate for EYFS leads to accompany curriculum leads or attend in place of curriculum leads, taking the materials they get back in to school to discuss later.

This training can be offered flexibly to incorporate as many subject leads as desired. You may wish, for example, to swap at lunchtime with another colleague.

AM session: Introduction to the principles and ethos of the EYFS, Understanding the World (Geography, History, ICT, RE)

PM session: Expressive Arts and Design (Art, DT and Music), Physical Development and Science

Transition - Supporting my journey 0-3 years

Number of places:30

Course suitable for:

Early years practitioners from PVI settings, schools and Childminders who are supporting children aged 0-3 years with transition.

Description:

Research suggests that transitions are central to young children's development and emotional wellbeing, and the way in which the first transitions are handled could have a significant impact on the child's capacity to cope with change in the short and long term.

Babies and young children need to feel important, supported and cared for and we all know that the positive relationships we develop are the foundations for their learning. Supporting transitions in the early years not only helps support the child at these crucial stages in their lives, but also helps support the parents and carers. Exploring what the term 'school readiness' means for individual children at this age, can help parents and carers understand and how "early transition strategies" can also support later transitions for their children.

In this session we consider the importance of working in partnership with practitioners, other professionals, parents and carers, to support our youngest children's transition journeys. We reflect on how various "transitions" are managed, including their experiences of transition to and throughout their time in nursery (or childcare setting).
